

Why move your phones to the cloud?

Our Hosted PBX Service saves money and simplifies your communications with all the latest features

Moving your phones to Hosted PBX has never been this easy or this affordable Traditional phone systems are restricted by high costs and limited functionality. Tierzero has taken that outdated, expensive technology and moved it to the cloud.

Now, we can offer you a Hosted PBX phone system that grows as you grow, provides you with complete flexibility, continuous cost savings, and a host of advanced features. Not only will our Hosted PBX reduce your costs, but it will also allow your team to stay in touch easily and work smarter, both in the office and on the go.

We always have your back

Tierzero's provisioning team provides white glove service with a concierge touch, ensuring your phone system is set up the way you want it, and our customer care technicians are always there for continued support.

Tierzero Hosted PBX offers you

- Unlimited calling anywhere in the U.S. and Canada.
- Simple installation and management.
- Enterprise-grade phone system.
- Dedicated lifetime white glove support.

Work Smarter

A full set of enterprise-grade features providing next generation communication

You'll have the ability to manage your own features and service - or let us do it for you.

over 40 features in all

Work from anywhere

Hosted PBX provides a convenient web portal that makes it easy for users to set-up and change features to suit their needs. Visual voicemail enables you to listen to messages or have them sent to an email address. The user portal contains powerful call routing capabilities such as simultaneous ring, distinctive ring tones, and remote call forwarding. In addition to the user portals, Hosted PBX has a separate admin portal for managing business-level features.

cloud communications

Tierzero began over 20 years ago as an effort to disrupt the telecommunications industry, so we understand the frustration when it comes to dealing with the big phone companies. We believe it's our job to make the lives of business owners and IT managers less complicated and deliver an eloquent solution that works with the least amount of hassle.
